// SHORT BIOGRAPHY //

Hailed as “a great artistic talent” by the A&B Foundation, pianist MICHAEL ANGELUCCI holds First Place awards in the Bradshaw and Buono International Piano Competition and the American Prize National Competition. His compelling craft has brought him to exiting venues such as Carnegie-Weill Hall, the Artown Music Festival, and the historic Auditorium de la Salle du Dome in France. Highlights from recent seasons include a two-week tour with the Tahoe Symphony Orchestra and a residency with Artist Music Academies of Maryland, along with numerous appearances on the Baltimore-Washington circuit. A champion of the interactive concert experience, Michael frequently incorporates live, unscripted program notes into his recitals, adding a personalized touch widely appreciated by presenters and patrons alike.

Alongside his performance résumé, Michael devotes considerable energy to his other great passion: teaching college and pre-college musicians. Currently on faculty at the International School of Music in Washington, D.C, Michael previously taught undergraduate music majors at the Peabody Conservatory and the University of Maryland School of Music. A prolific clinician, Dr. Angelucci has served as faculty-jurist for the William Knabe International Piano Competition and the Ivy International Music Festival, and maintains an expanding schedule of master classes, festival appearances, and jury invitations throughout the region. His students are frequent prizewinners in competitions, and have been invited to study at prestigious undergraduate music programs.

Michael earned the Bachelor and Master of Music degrees from the Peabody Conservatory, and a Doctor of Musical Arts from the University of Maryland. Born and raised in the snowy upper midwest, he now makes his home in Baltimore surrounded by an overabundance of scores, an overworked Boston grand, and a frequently rotten (but eternally lovable) miniature labradoodle named Gus. www.michaelangelucci.com
